

Animating the Golden Rule ... An Introduction

a film by Tina Petrova

Executive Producer: Scarboro Missions

*"Do unto others as you would have them do to you..."
is part of our planet's common language.*

This Golden Rule, also known as The Ethic of Reciprocity, is considered by many to be the most consistent, prevalent and universal ethical principle in history. It is found worldwide throughout cultures, religions, secular philosophies and indigenous traditions.

Why does it deserve renewed attention today? The Golden Rule has tremendous capacity for promoting social justice, non-violence, unity, the teaching of compassion and ethics, multicultural and multifaith cooperation.

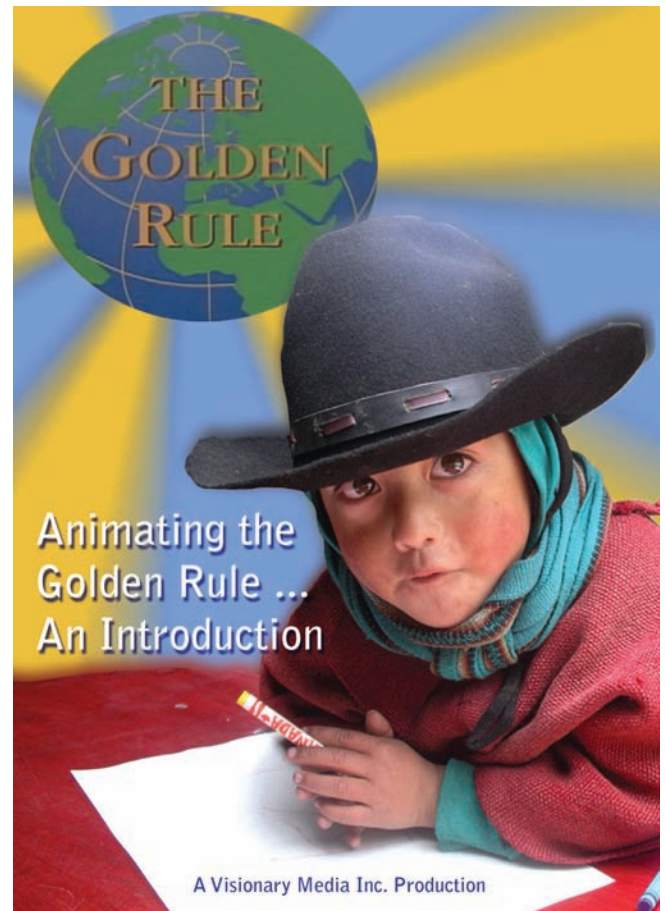

Long thought of as a rule for individuals, our changing world invites us to broaden this rule to include groups of people and society as a whole.

Filmmaker Tina Petrova propels the viewer on a journey of discovery, as teenage youth embody the teachings of the Golden Rule through self-directed explorations in art, music rap and drama skits. The core values of this ethic of reciprocity are brought to life by these young people, commented by educators and interfaith leaders.

This 23 minute educational DVD (including valuable DVD extras for in-class use) was created as a learning tool to match curriculum with World Religion courses.

A poster version of the Golden Rule (developed at Scarboro Missions) hangs in the United Nations and the Vatican, and is currently a world best seller.
